JACK CHIANG
PRIMARY EXAMINER

NOTE: to assist applicant understanding the examiner's reading of the Imai reference, a "hinge line" marked in red ink had been added in Imai's figs. 2 and 5A, see also the attached sheets at the end of this Office Action.

CLAIMS

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 11-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Imai (EP 0704446 A2).

Regarding claim 11, Imai shows a telephone comprising:

A first part (101);

A display and input device which is configured as a touch screen (103);

A second part (102) which has a first operation position covering the screen (fig. 5a), and a second operation position exposing the screen (fig. 2);

A telephone receiver (above 109 in fig. 5a) which is positioned over a surface (below the "hinge line" shown in figs. 2 and 5A) of the touch screen (103); and Additional input parts (104 in figs. 2, 5a).

Regarding claims 12-19, Imai shows:

The touch screen (103);

the mechanical keypad and its pressure pin (104);
the recesses (spaces for keys 104 in fig. 5b);
a phone input mode (fig. 5a);
the input keypad (104) is independent of the touch screen (103) (note: 103 and 104 are physical independent elements);
a pivot (hinge connecting 101, 102);
the first exposed displaced position and the second covered displaced position (figs. 2, 5a);
a transparent window (109); and a change-over switch (106, 107).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Imai in view of Iwata et al. (US 5646649).

Regarding claim 20, Imai shows an input pin (105).

Imai differs from the claimed invention in that it does not explicitly mention that there is a recess for holding the input pin.

However, if a device needs an input pin (stylus pen), then it is most likely that the device would have a recess for holding the input pin, because the input pin needs to be stored away after finish using it. This is also taught by Iwata, such as the input pin (50) and the recess (51).

Hence, if it is found that Imai does not have a recess for the input pin (105), then it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Imai with a recess for holding the input pin with/without the teaching of Iwata, because the input pin needs to stored away, and it is common seen that devices having an input pin usually have a recess for holding the input pin.

ARGUMENT

5. In response to the remarks (pages 4-5), applicant mainly argues that "... the telephone receiver disclosed in the Imai reference ... is not over the surface of the associated touch screen...".

6. The examiner disagrees. After a careful review of the Imai's reference, it appears that "the telephone receiver disclosed in the Imai reference ... is over the surface of the associated touch screen...", see area just below the "hinge line" marked in figs. 2 and 5a.

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jack Chiang whose telephone number is 703-305-4728. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Fri. from 8:00 to 6:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Ahmad Matar, can be reached on 703-305-4731. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
